Two Charged With Bug Ridge B & E

Two individuals are facing multiple charges following a burglary on Bug Ridge near Sutton last weekend. Braxton County Sheriff's Deputies received a call of a possible breaking and entering at 13044 Bug Ridge Road on Saturday, January 21. The caller indicated multiple items were missing. A description of a silver Camaro type vehicle was also given to officers.

Deputy A. L. Groves went to the scene to investigate. He as assisted by Deputy A. Jordan, Deputy B. Williams and Trooper E. Clark. The officers began searching the area for a vehicle matching the description reported to 9-1-1. Deputy Groves spotted a silver Pontiac Firebird at 95 Sang Run Road with two individuals in the driveway.

proached the car to investigate they saw items similar to those reported stolen from the Bug Ridge residence. Deputy Groves arrested Dusten Brice Stewart, 32, of Sutton and Dustin Joe Brantley, 22, of Birch River. After being administered their Miranda Rights, both defendants confessed to the breaking and entering in a recorded statement. They were both charged with burglary and conspiracy.

The pair were arraigned before Braxton County Magistrate David Singleton where their bond was set at $15,000.

The vehicle was impounded, and the investigation is continuing at press-time.

Middle School Lady Knights win against Gilmer on Eighth Grade Night

By Shirley Shuman

Coach Matt Pritt was pleased with his team's performance against Gilmer in their recent game. Braxton won 27-21, and their coach explained why. "The girls played a great game on Eighth Grade Night," he said. "We shot well from the foul line but didn't shoot as well from the field. We rebounded the ball the best we have all season and didn't have as many turnovers."

Once again, Rylan Criner led the Lady Knights' defensive efforts. Criner had several rebounds and her coach said "played a great defensive game."

week of the 86th Legislature, the West Virginia House of Delegates have passed five of its bills to the Senate for consideration, the first being House Bill 2526, which would gradually reduce the personal income tax by 50 percent over three consecutive years.

A bill that passed the full House Thursday by a unanimous vote would leverage the state's position in the fast lane for digitally titling vehicles. House Bill 2506 allows the DMV to create a title clearinghouse for businesses not based in West Virginia. The process would reduce the time for titling from a 40-day process on of $15 at a bare minimum, the state road fund will get a $15 boost every time a non-resident business titles a vehicle in West Virginia. It is anticipated that within two years, this could add $100 million to the road fund.

The first completed legislation of the session were Senate Bill 161 and Senate Bill 162. SBH 161 will allow the Division of Natural Resources to sell, lease, or dispose of any obsolete or unused property under its control. If the land is in a state park or state forest, the Legislature first would need to grant approval. SB 162 would allow the DNR to lease tiny pockets of underground open areas so energy producers who liquify the carbon they capture are able to pump it down into those spaces to keep carbon from being released into the atmosphere. Both pieces of legislation have been sent to the Governor for his signature.

Both will have major implications to the budget. The Governor's income tax proposal will blow a considerable hole in the budget, but I hope the plan is modified at some point to provide much needed relief to senior citizens, veterans and to low- and middleincome working families. These groups have been the most hard-hit by the global inflation brought on by COVID. > PEIA is at a crossroads. First, the reimbursement are much less than those afforded to those insured by PEIA receiving medical Already, one hospital in the northern panhandle has announced that soon it will not accept PEIA patients. This would be a tragedy reminiscent of forty years ago, at a time when the state was essentially broke from underfunded pension plans for state employees and teachers along with a broken workers comp system. Thankfully, the legislature faced the situation and paid down our crushing debt, setting up the surpluses of today.

> By all accounts, PEIA is living off claims revenue. However, experts have agreed that it will take a cash infusion between $50 million to $80 million for several years to keep premiums, co-pays and deductibles at current levels. We are trying to take good care of our dog and get him in by the fire on the real cold nights but he would rather stay out and chase critters. He has to be dragged in sometimes. He just wants to go lay on the hay, in his dog house. It is on the back porch though. Our other dogs were happy to go lay on a warm dogie bed in front of a stove. Not this one. He wants out where he can chase every critter that comes near. This is his territory. The only thing is we loose sleep with him running down the ramp growling and barking. If he growls, a fox is coming in on us. If he howls, there is a coyote out there somewhere howling. Then there is a at night. deer bark and a people bark. He even tells us if ious for spring. 1876. As I walked on this hallowed ground, I felt the cries of the people vibrating my body. I spent a bit of time paying my respects by the monument marking the mass grave where the frozen and lifeless bodies of the dead were buried. Wounded Knee is located on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in South Dakota. I stop by there on my trips out West. Visit https://woundedkneemuseum.org/ National WWII

Museum, New Orleans, Louisiana. I have toured this museum a few times while in New Orleans for the NO Jazz & Heritage Music Festival. "The National WWII Museum tells the story of the American experience in the war that changed the world—why it was fought, how it was won, and what it means today-so that all generations will understand the price of freedom and be inspired by what they learn." And so much to learn, a lot from the soldiers own accounts. The museum teaches the story of the war that changed the world through exhibits, multimedia experiences, and personal accounts. The site is a few acres containing the Louisiana Memorial Pavilion, the Solomon Victory Theater, the Hall of Democracy, the U.S. Freedom Pavilion, the Campaigns of Courage, which focuses on the European and Pacific Theaters, and coming soon, the Liberation Pavilion. There are thousands of military equipment, air-I will share some plac- planes, tanks, armaments the euphoric moments contemplation. One thing versity Campus. Some of motorcycling provides for sure, I believe we all the exhibits and pictures do not have to feel pain are so realistic that one and suffering, just to learn feels as though we are part that others have, for us to of the action. The museum I hear there has to be a have reached this point in also includes life experiences on the home front. 1- Wounded Knee There are many opportuhas to be dark to have Massacre Monument - nities to really get deep

> 3- The United States seum, Washington D.C. visit to the Holocaust Museum. I suggest preparing yourself to learn a story that will reach deep inside you and tear your heart out. According to the museum's Holocaust Encyclopedia, "The Holocaust was the systematic, statesponsored persecution and murder of six million Jews by the Nazi regime and its allies and collaborators." The museum's database contains more than 270,000 records, including: Photos and albums of images of life before, during and after the Holocaust; personal stories, interviews, home movies, memoirs, and diaries; and films of historical footage and contemporary films about the Holocaust. See the inside of a gas chamber and the miserable living conditions of the prisoners. Visit the museum's site at https://www. ushmm.org/

includes the names of over 58,000 men and women that gave their lives in service, as well as those missing in action, arranged in the order they were lost. The list on names begins at the center of the Wall, beginning with the first death in 1959, and continues to the right towards the shorter end, then resumes at the shorter end on the left and towards the middle, so that the first and last to die meet in the middle. The Wall was erected to "help heal the wounds of a nation suffering from a politically charged and controversial war." The other exhibits at the VVM are The Three Soldiers statue and the Vietnam Women's Memorial. The Memorial provided me with another emotional trip through American history. I did not serve in the military; however, I feel a passionate respect for those who served and are serving. My family and I came to the U.S. fleeing a communist country, so I deeply appreciate those that have given their lives and/or are serving in the military. Any Veteran or active personnel I encounter gets a hearty Thank you for your service from me. The memorial is free and open 24 hours a day. Rangers are on duty to answer questions from 9:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily. Visit the National Park Service's site at https://www.nps. gov/vive/index.htm/in-
